THE NEW BONNET.

Ye grave and wise! rebuke me not,
Nor think my theme too idle;
Nor you, ye frowning Muses! seek
My wingless steed to bridle.

On your white brows the laurel shone,
By old Olympus shady;
And I but sing the crown she wears,
A lovely modern lady!

Alas! alas! a crown no more,
And therefore is this sonnet!
An awful structure doth displace
The "darling of a bonnet."

Medusa's head 'twere very hard
To wear it but for one day;
But you, it suits you passing well,
Unlovely Mrs. Grundy!

And I would crown you with it too,
Forever and forever,
And all your flowing grace of robe
From crinoline disever.

Ah! what are we to do with them,
The grasses, flowers and laces,
That on the little bonnet threw
New beauty o'er fair faces.

And hid, and lost, the glossy braids,
The dark or golden tresses,
That, from its light-worn bondage free,
The gentle air caresses?

No wonder woman's brow should flush
With fleet but angry passion,
Thus fettered to the chariot wheels
Of every foolish fashion!

And is there no Utopian clime
Amid the ocean islands,
Or some green vale of Eden hid
Within the distant highlands,

Where one may wear just what they wish
On everyday and Sunday,
And scorn the edict and the rod
Of ruthless Mrs. Grundy?

ENXL.

THE DEPARTED.

Nothing is our own; we hold our pleasures
Just a little while ere they have fled;
One by one life robs us of our treasures;
Nothing is our own except the dead.

They are ours, and hold with faithful keeping,
Safe forever, all they took away;
Cruel life can never stir that sleeping,
Cruel time can never seize that prey.

Justice pales; truth fades; stars fall from heaven;
Human are the great whom we revere;
No true crown of honor can be given,
Till the wreath lies on a funeral bier.

How the children leave us; and no traces
Linger of that smiling angel band;
Gone, forever gone, and in their places,
Weary men and anxious women stand.

Yet we have some little ones, still ours;
They have kept the smile we know,
Which we kissed one day, and hid with flowers
On their dear white faces long ago.

When our joy is lost, and life will take it,
Then no memory of the past remains;
Save with some strange, cruel sting, that makes it
Bitterness beyond all present pains.

Death, more tender-hearted, leaves to sorrow
Still the radiant shadow—fond regret;
We shall find, in some bright fair to-morrow,
Joy that he has taken, living yet.

I love ours, and do we dream we know it,
Bound with all our heart-strings, all our own.
And cold and cruel down may show it,
Shattered, desecrated, overthrown.

Only dead hearts forsake us never;
Love, that to death's loyal care has fled,
Is thus consecrated ours forever,
And no chance can rob us of our dead.

So when fate comes to besiege our city;
Dim our gold, or make our flowers fall,
Death, the angel comes in love and pity,
And to save our treasures, claims them all.

KNOWLEDGE AND CHARITY.

BY RUTH BENTON.

If we knew the cares and crosses
Crowding round our neighbors way;
If we knew the little losses,
Surely grievous day by day;
Would we then so often chide him
For his lack of thrift and gain—
Leaving on his heart a shadow,
Leaving on our lives a stain.

If we knew the clouds above us,
Held by gentle blessings there,
Would we turn away all trembling,
In our blind and weak despair?
Would we shrink from little shadows,
Lying on the dewy grass,
Whilst 'tis only birds of Eden,
Just in mercy flying past.

If we knew the silent story,
Quivering through the heart of pain,
Would our womanhood dyre doom them
Back to haunts of guilt again?
Life has many a tangled crossing,
Joy hath many a break of woe.
And the cheeks, tear washed, are the whitest,
As the blessed angels know.

Let us search within our bosoms
For the key to others' lives,
And with love towards erring nature,
Cherish good that still survives;
So that when our disrobed spirits
Soar to realms of light again,
We may say, dear Father, judge us,
As we judge our fellow-men.

☞ The following is a very significent epistle to be presented to the present degenerate age, which, if answered correctly, would be found to contain more truth than poetry:—

Is there a heart that never sighed?
Is there a tongue that never lied?
Is there an eye that never blinked?
Is there a man that never drinked?
Is there a woman that never fainted?
Is there a woman that never painted?
If so, then heart, and tongue, and eye
Must tell a most confounded lie.

He's a fool, who thinks by force or skill
To turn the current of a woman's will.

THE DEATH STRUGGLE.
AT BUENA VISTA.

BY GEORGE LIPPARD.

It was near the setting of the sun, when the Man of Palo Alto, Resaca de la Palma and Monterey, saw the clouds come down on the last charge Buena Vista, that a scene worthy of the days of Washington, closed the day in glory.

Do you behold that dark ravine, deep and sunken between these precipitous banks? Here no sunlight comes, for these walls of rock wrap the pass in eternal twilight. Withered trees grow between the masses of granite and scattered stone makes the bed of the ravine uncertain and difficult for the tread.

Hark! That cry, that rush like a mountain torrent bursting its barriers, and quick as the lightning flashes from darkness, the dismal ravine is bathed in red battle light. From its northern extremity, a confused band of Mexicans, an army in itself came yelling along the pass, treading one another down as they fly, their banners, spears, horses and men tossed together in inexplicable confusion.

By thousands they rush into the shadows of the pass, their dark faces reddened by the sheeted blaze of musketry. The caverns of the ravine send back the roar of the panic, and the grey rocks are washed by their blood.

But the little band who pursues this army—Who are they? You may see in their flim heroic ranks, the volunteer costume of Illinois and Kentuckey. At their head, urging his men with shouts, rides the gallant McKee, by his side young Henry Clay, that broad forehead, which reminds you of his father, bathed in the glare of his sword as it quivers on high ere it falls to kill. There too, a wild figure, red with his own blood of Mexican foes, his uniform rent in tatters, his arms bared to the shoulders, striking terrible blows with his good sword—Harden, of of Illinois, comes gallantly forward.

The small, but iron band, hurl the Mexicans from the heights into the ravine, and follow up the chase, far down into the eternal twilight of that moutain pass.

Look! As their musketry streams its steady blaze, you would think that one ceaseless sheet of lightning bathed these rocks in flame.

Over the Mexicans, man and horse, hurled back in mad disorder, the Americans dash on their way, never heeding the overwhelming numbers of their foes, never heeding the palpitating forms beneath their feet, with bayonet and rifle, and sword, they press steadily on, their well known banner streaming evermore, overhead.

The howl of the dying war horse—hark!—Does it not chill your blood to hear it?—The bubbling cry of the wounded man, with the horse's hoof upon his mouth, tramping his face into a hideous wreck—does it not sicken your soul to hear it.

A hundred yards or more, into the pass the Americans have penetrated, when suddenly a young Mexican rushing back upon their ranks, seized the fallen flag of Anahuac, and dashes to his death.

To see him, young and beardless, a very boy, rush with his country's flag, with his bared breast, upon that line of sharp steel—it was a sight to stir cowards into manhood, and it shot into the Mexican hearts like an electric flame.

Even in their panic-stricken disorder they turned; by hundreds they grasped their arms, and rolled in one long wave of lance and bayonet, upon the foe. Woe to the brave men of Illinois and Kentucky now! Locked in that deadly pass, a wall of infuriated Mexicans between that wall of rocks—above their heads through every aperture among the cliffs, the blaze of muskets, pouring a shower of bullets in their face—wherever they turned the long and deadly lance paused at their throats—it was a moment to think once of home and die.

Those who survived that fearful moment, tell with shuddering triumph of the three heroes—McKee, Hardin and Clay.

McKee, you see him yonder, with his shattered sword dripping blood, he endeavors to ward off the aims of the deadly lances, and fights on his knees when he can stand no longer, and then the combatants close over him, and you see him no more.

Hardin rose from a heap of slaughtered foes, his face streaming from its hideous lance wounds, and waved a Mexican flag in triumph, as his life-blood gushes in a torrents over his muscular form. That instant the full light of the battle streamed upon his mangled face. Then, flinging the captured flag to a brother soldier, he shouted—"Give it to her as a memento of Buena Vista! My wife!" It was his last words. Upon his bared breast the fury of ten lances rushed, and the horses hoofs trampled him into the heap of dead.

But most sad and most glorious of all, was to see the death of the Second Henry Clay. You should have seen him, with his back against yonder rock, his sword grasped firmly as a consciousness that he bore a name that must not die ingloriously, seemed to fill his every vein, and dart a deadly fire from his eyes!

At that moment he looked like the old man.

For his brow, high and retreating, with the blood-clotted hair waving back from its outline, was swollen in every vein, as though his soul shone from it ere she fled forever. Lips set, browns knit, hands firm—a circle of his men fighting around him—he dashed into the Mexicans until his sword was wet, his arm weary.

At last, with his thigh splintered by a ball, he gathered his proud form to its full height, and fell. His face ashy with intense agony, he bade his comrades to leave him there to die. That ravine should be the bed of his glory.

But gathered around him a guard of breasts and one or two of their number carried him tenderly along—these men of Kentucky fought around their fallen hero, and as retreating step by step, they launched their swords and bayonets into the faces of the foe, they said with every blow—"Henry Clay."

It was wonderful to see how that name nerved their arms, and called a smile to the face of the dying hero. How it would have made the heart of the old man of Ashland throb, to have heard his name, yelling as a battle cry, down the shadows of that lonely pass.

Along the ravine, and up the narrow path! The hero bleeds as they bear him on, and tracks the way with his blood.—Faster and thicker the Mexicans swarm—they see the circle around the fallen man, even see his pale face, uplifted as a smile crosses its fading lineaments, and like a a pack of wolves scenting the frozen traveler at dead of night they come howling up the rocks, and charge the devoted band with one dense mass of bayonets.

Up and on! the light shines yonder, on the topmost rocks if the ravine, It is the light of the setting sun. Old Taylor's eye is upon that rock, and there we will fight our way and die in the old man's sight!

It was a murderous way, that path up the steep bank of the ravine! Littered with dead, slippery with blood, it grew blacker every moment with Mexicans, and the defenders of the wounded hero, fell one by one, into the chasm yawning all round.

At last they reached the light, the swords and bayonets glitter in the sight of the contending armies, and the bloody contest roars towards the topmost rock.

Then it was that gathering up his dying frame—armed with supernatural vigor—young Clay started from the arms or his supporters, and stood with outstretched hand in the light of the setting sun. It was a glorious sight which he saw there, amid the rolling battle clouds; Santa Anna's formidable array hurled back into ravine and gorge by Taylor's little band. But a more glorious thing it was to see that dying man standing for the last time, in the light of that sun, which shall never raise for him again.

"Leave me!" he shrieked, as he fell back on the sod—"I must die, and I will die here! Peril your lives no longer for me! Go! There is work for you yonder!"

The Mexicans crowded on, hungry for blood. Even as he spoke, their bayonets, glistening by hundreds, were leveled at the the throats of the devoted band.

By the mere force of their overwhelming numbers they crushed them back from the side of the dying young Clay.

One lingered, a brave man, who had known the chivalric soldier, and loved him long; he stood there, and covered as he was with blood, heard these last words:

Tell my father how I died, and give him these pistols!

Lifting his ashy face into the light, he turned his eyes upon his comrade's face. placed the pistols in his hands—and fell back to his death.

That comrade, with the pistols in his grasp, fought his way alone to the topmost rock of the path, and only once looked back. He saw a quivering form canopied by bayonets—he saw those outstretched hands grappling with points of steel—he saw a pale face lifted once in the light, and then darkness rushed upon the life of young Henry Clay.

HOTEL SCENE.

If we take it first and last all through life, it is really amazing what a raft of people we've heard and never seen. Especially in hotels.

It has been Mace Sloper's luck to be frequently quartered in rooms with nothing but a door betwixt his room and his neighbors; and whenever this happened he has been pretty generally about as certain to hear, willing or unwilling, considerable that wasn't spoken to him. Particularly when girls were in the next room! Not giving myself credit for any especial 'cuteness, I can't brag of ever having got up any wise theory on the subject; but it does seem to me that the queerest, wildest, and most amazing speeches I ever heard in all my life from mortal lips always come from people I couldn't see.—Moreover—and everybody 'll agree with me if he'll rake out his own experience a little—I maintain that no two people can talk in the dark to another as they do in the light. Report such a talk, and read it to them, and they'll as soon believe that they've been talking Injun. That's so!

Which reminds Mace Sloper of a talk he once heard in a New Jersey hotel. I had quietly smoked myself into a regular nap such as the good alone enjoy, when I was awoke by hearing some body enter the next room. Apparently he woke somebody else up too, who was sleeping there in advance of him.

"Hullo thar?" says the man a-bed.

"Hul-lo and behold!" answered the one entering.

"Wait for your welcome afore you come in," said No. 1.

"In-comes are welcome," answered No. 11. "The mixologist of tipulars directorized me to apartment XC, which being exceedingly weary, I did uncandelized.—But if you desire illuminosity——"

"Stranger!" cried No. 1.: "hold thar! don't light a match for the love of God! I know adzackly what your like without goin' furder. You'er five feet 'leven inches high, got gray eyes and a coon-colored vest, short-cropped ha'r and a loose over-coat, nose like a razor-handle, and scar over your left eye. That's the stripe!"

"How do you cognovit that?" was the amazed reply.

"Cog——thunder!" was the response. "How do I know how you look? Why, who the d—l ever heard of a man's coming to bed in the dark, and calling a barkeeper a mixologist of tipular fixins, unless he had gray eyes, razor-handled nose, short ha'r, an' a coon-colored vest? Don't light match, stranger; on my account.—Drummon lights would be darkness on your face arter such a blaze of language as that. 'Illuminosity' and 'cognovit!' That shows you've got a carpet-bag in your hand and a whiskey bottle in it. Sho!"

There was a sound like the pop of a cork, and a clear case drinking to better acquaintanceship going on as I fell to sleep. We hear queer things in the dark. That Western man rather knocks me whenever I think of him.

C. G. LELAND.

GENERAL JACKSON'S WIFE.

Many of our public men have been blessed with wives and mothers who were the ornaments of their sex, and their quiet and ennobling influence contributed largely to the subsequent greatness of their children and husbands. Mr. Parton tells the following story of General Jackson's wife.

When General Jackson was a candidate for the Presidency, in 1828, not only did the party opposed to him abuse him for his public acts, which, if unconstitutional or violent, were a legitimate subject of reprobation, but they defamed the character of his wife. On one occasion a newspaper published at Nashville was laid upon the General's table. He glanced over it, and his eye fell upon an article in which the character of Mrs. Jackson was violently assailed. So soon as he read it he sent for his trusty old servant, Dunwoodie.

"Saddle my horse," said he to him in a whisper, "and put my holsters on him." Mrs. Jackson watched him, and, though she heard not a word, she thought she saw mischief in his eye. The General went out after a few minutes, when she took up the paper and understood everything. She ran out to the south gate of the yard at the Hermitage, by which the General would have to pass. She had not been there more than a few seconds before the General rode up with the countenance of a madman. She placed herself before his horse and cried out.

"O, General! don't go to Nashville.—Let that poor editor live—let that poor editor live!" He replied; "How came you to know what I am going for?" She answered: "I saw it all in his paper after you went out; put up your horse and go back." He replied furiously; "But I will go—get out of my way!" Instead of doing this, she grasped his bridle with both hands. He cried to her, "Let go, let go my horse: I'll have his heart's blood; the villain that reviles my wife shall not live."

She grasped the reins but the tighter, and began to expostulate with him, saying that she was the one who ought to be angry, but that she forgave her persecutors from the bottom of her heart, and prayed for them—that he should forgive, if he had hoped to be forgiven. At last, by her reasoning, her entreaties and tears, she so worked upon her husband that he seemed mollified to a certain extent. She wound up by saying, "No, General, you shall not take the life of even my reviler; you dare not do it, for it is written, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord.'"

The iron-nerved hero gave way before the earnest pleading of his beloved wife, and replied: "I yield to you; but had it not been for you, and the words of the Almighty, the wretch should not have lived an hour."

Captain Brady and the Redskins---Thrilling Adventure.

In the North American, received this morning, we find a communication from Mr. Rea, in which he details a thrilling incident in the life of the celebrated Indian scout Captain Brady, related to him by the captain of the canal boat on which he recently traveled from New Brighton to New Castle. The Captain was once taken prisoner by the redskins at a point about five or six miles above the mouth of Beaver river, and his capture is thus described by the skipper: "Brady had never been taken by the Indians before, and was this time led into their hands by the too eager pursuit of a wounded buck. He had wounded a deer, and was following it with that long loping gait in which he traveled when he was rapidly pressing on his game, or an enemy. Coming out from the hills suddenly, upon what is now called "Walnut Bottom," he was seized, thrown from his feet, and pinioned to the earth by a half a dozen stalwart savages. One reason, doubtless, why Brady was so incautious, was the fact that peace then nominally prevailed between the whites and the Indians. This was in 1789, and late in the autumn of that year. Fort McIntosh had been abandoned in 1787.—Lukens' Blockhouse, built where New Brighton now stands, was only nominally occupied. The Indians had stolen, therefore into the neighborhood, and formed an encampment without detection. They were upon a hunting expedition, and had with them a number of women and children. As soon as Brady was seized, disarmed and bound, the joy of the Indians knew no limit. It was in vain their captive pleaded that peace existed. Their great foe was in thoir power, and they resolved to burn him at the stake that very day. After the usual preparations were made, he was led to the place of execution. When he was tied, and just as the flames began to crackle about him, he contrived to seize a knife from an Indian squaw near by, and in one instant he was free. He snatched an Indian child from the arms of its mother, threw it into the fire, and, during the confusion consequent upon the attempt to rescue it from the flames, bounded away with a fleetness to be equalled only by the trained frontiersmen of that day.

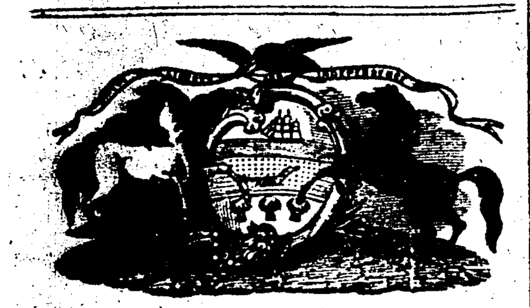

Unarmed as he was, save with the knife, he had to depend upon his speed for his life. The Indians, understanding well that he would make for the block house, kept down the Narrows, on the west side of the river (a narrow defile even to this day, only affording room enough after heavy cutting for a wagon road.) They drove him up the crest of a narrow ridge overlooking Fallston. To descend the rocks opposite our block house, rising as they did perpendicularly for about forty feet or more, seemed impossible. The Indians, therefore, kept on at full speed, hoping to catch him as he descended Fallstock neck, nearly a mile below, where the declivity becomes more gradual. He saw and comprehended the terrible circumstances by which he was surrounded. Behind him the woods were swarming with armed foes. Others had passed in front of him, and cut off retreat to the southward. He stood for a moment overlooking the whole valley from his eyrie. A grape vine, running along the ground for some distance, and closely twined to the limbs of a tree overhanging the precipice, providentially chanced to be at hand. It was cut, he swung out upon it the tree yielded, and he was within ten feet of a narrow shelf in the ledge, from which, if he reached it he could rapidly descend to the foot of the hill. He dropped, and although bruised and cut by the fall, in ten minutes he had reached the waters' edge, crossed the river, and was safely housed in the stockade fort. Two years afterwards, within five hundred feet of where he had made this terrible leap, he amply avenged himself by cutting off a band of thirty of his red foes, and among them the leader of the very band who had taken him prisoner. Such is one of the thrilling traditions with which this valley abounds."

MRS. JONES ON FITS.—Mrs. Jane Elizabeth Jones, one of the speakers at the recent Woman's Rights Convention in New York, was somewhat severe upon those seemingly masculine exotics that flourish in the atmosphere of dry goods and shoe stores and millinery establishments. Hear her:

"The other day she saw a man milliner holding up a bonnet on his soft hands and expatiating on its merits. A lady tried it on and he went into ecstacies, it was such a fit and so becoming! He complimented the bonnet and then he complimented the lady. She could not but think that this man was out of his sphere. In a shoe store, instead of a sprightly girl to try on womans' gaiters, you find a strong man, who tries it, and fusses over the gaiter and over the foot, until the lady is almost tempted to propel him into his true sphere. [Laughter.] When and where was it discovered that God made man to fit ladies' gaiters? [Laughter.]

"Reduction of Employees."

The Juniata True Democrat, of the 28th ult., has an editorial under the above caption at which we are astonished, and deeply regret. Our old friend had certainly, at the time of penning the article alluded to, lost his accustomed equanimity; for it was evidently written in a bad temper and in a wrong spirit. The spirit is bad—the motive we can not divine.

To the individual referred to, the bad temper—not to say bitterness—of the Democrat, is, we presume, a matter of indifference. But it is due to the cause of truth, and justice to the employees of the Penn'a Rail Road Company, to expose the unfounded charges of the Democrat's editorial. The first is that the number of brakemen on the large freight trains have been reduced to two. This is a mistake; for there are three brakemen to each train.—Following this it is said, "this is consistent with the grinding process inaugurated by the advent of the illustrious Vice President as General Superintendent."—Now it must have been known to the author of that sentence, that the reduction of wages alluded to was before the administration of Thos. A Scott, and during the incumbency of H. J. Lombaert; and by the positive direction of the Board of Directors. It was after the promotion of the present Vice President to the position of General Superintendent, and at his suggestion, that the wages were advanced. His superintendency was proverbial for its clemency, except where employees were unfaithful, or where involved in the insubordination and conspiracy of a general strike. He is known to be kind-hearted, particularly to the poor, benevolent, and liberal almost to a fault.

Did it occur to the editor of the Democrat, that his objection to the reduction of needless force on trains, implies that the Vice President is more bound to retain employees, than to consult the interest of the Company of which he is an officer?—Beautiful rule indeed, for officials! Alas! the one which now weighs down our Commonwealth under millions of debt. What corporation wants for one of its high officers, a man, who, regardless of its interests, and for his own popularity, or influence, would employ needless laborers? Yet this is just what he would be bound to do, according to the reasoning of the Democrat. No, if the Vice President of the Penn'a R. R. Co., believes it to be consistent with the interests of the Company to reduce the number of the brakemen from four to three, it is not only right for him to suggest it, but he is bound to see it enforced. If he does not, he is not fit for the position he occupies.

The charge of an "extorted reward" is as unfounded as it is ungenerous. So far as Mr. Scott is concerned, nothing was known of the intended testimonial until after the funds for it had been raised; and we do not believe that he knows to a certainty the name of one individual who did or who did not contribute to the fund.—As to the employees, the charge contains an insinuation which outrages their independence and manliness. It implies that they gave towards the intended testimonial as a matter of constraint; from the dread of official displeasure—not voluntarily; and, consequently, that their condition is but little better than servitude or vassalage; that, therefore, they dare not or have not the courage to resist what they considered unjust or oppressive! American freemen be so low, so mean? No! they know no such oppression, nor would they endure it. It is a slander to intimate such a thing; and Thos. A. Scott is one of the last men to ask or expect such servility from his fellows. He is regarded by all who know him well, as one of the most affable, yet magnanimous, men to be found. Again we say it is strange that our friend of the True Democrat should have suffered himself to betray so much feeling and personality—especially with such recklessness in regard to facts—towards one through whom the courtesies of the Rail Road Company have been extended to him. Ought you not, friend Greer, to put yourself right on this subject? Have you not done yourself injustice by your editorial? All the good you can say of Gen. Roumfort we most cordially endorse.

The Great Eastern.

This great long-talked of ship, which surpasses in size and splendor anything of the kind that has ever came across the ocean, sailed upon water, or been thought of, has anchored at New York harbor and thousands are now flocking to the city and crowding the wharves in the vicinity of where she is lying to get a sight of her.—To build her cost a fabulous sum, and her daily expenses are appallingly large. She can carry 4,000 passengers, but she brought only forty. She can carry thousands of tons of freight, but she brought none. It is said she could not have got into New York harbor if she had been ladened. For this reason she cannot take freight when she departs. The question arrises, why was she sent to America.—Her errand is not one of profit from commerce or travel; and as to whether the matter of exhibiting here will pay remains to be seen. She is certainly worth going to see, if it costs but little more than the admission fee. Her trip to this country, like her previous ones, demonstrates the fact that she cannot compete with the smaller steamers in speed. That she will be a grand sinking fund to her owners certainly now appears probable, unless something other than we have yet seen noticed be hit upon to make her pay.

☞ The Republican papers are calling upon their Democratic cotemporaries to define the position of their candidate, Henry D. Foster, on the Presidential question, and the Democratic papers are calling on their opponents to give the views of Andy Curtin on the same question. This we take it is a useless piece of business. The defining of the positions of the candidates would not help either of them, and they exhibit wisdom by keeping mum. They were nominated and placed upon State platforms and they should stay there. They have nothing to do with the Presidential question, so far as relates to their State policy, and men who pretend to be politicians should certainly be able to see far enough ahead to know that what they ask for will not be granted unless they concede as much, and wherein would be the gain. Enough of this gentlemen, ask something else.

NEW DAILY.—The proprietors of the State Journal have commenced the publication of a daily paper, several the first numbers of which are on our table.—It is a spirited little sheet, and intensely devoted to the cause of Lincoln. Whether another penny paper will pay in Philadelphia, remains to be seen.

☞ "Can't we make your lover jealous, miss?" "Oh, yes, sir, I think we can, if we put our heads together."

☞ Fact—fortunes made in no time are like shirts made in no time; it's ten to one if they hang long together.

☞ The Huntingdon Union says that Dr. H. F. Conrad, of Coalmont, in that county, is about to locate in this place.

☞ Every plain girl has one consolation—though not a pretty young lady, she will, if she lives, be a pretty old one.

☞ A man died a few days ago at Norfolk, Va., and his physicians ascribed his disease to the habit of wearing tight boots.

☞ Two hundred ladies in Syracuse are regular patrons of a billiard saloon there, kept by the late sergeant-at-arms of the State Senate, who devotes to them two afternoons in the week.

☞ The Cleveland Democrat says:—"From the returns already in, it is feared that the population of Ohio, instead of advancing, has slightly decreased within the last ten years by emigration or otherwise.

☞ Over four hundred clergymen of the Episcopal Churches of England are in very great pecuniary distress, and the Secretary of the Poor Clergy Relief Fund has put forth a circular containing some very sorrowful statements.

☞ A physician of New York is of the opinion that calcined charcoal, in doses of one tablespoonful morning and evening, is an excellent remedy against the disease now prevalent among the cattle, May not our agriculturists give it a fair trial.

☞ A man named John C. Heylman has been arrested and bound over to appear at the August sessions of the Dauphin county court to answer the charge of purloining valuable books, deeds and other documents from the Land Office at Harrisburg.

☞ The farmers whose lands are located in the vicinity of cities and villages are complaining bitterly over the loss of their rail fences. In some localities the fields have been literally stripped of every rail upon them. The rails are used by wide-awake clubs as emblems for Lincoln.

☞ Down to 1828, every President had been taken from the old thirteen States. Now, of the nine rival candidates for President or Vice-President, but one (Mr. Everett, of Massachusetts,) is a citizen of an original State. All five of the candidates for President—Lincoln, Douglas, Bell, Breckinridge, and Houston,—live in the Mississippi Valley, or near its borders.

☞ A new pink has lately been imported from China, with flowers three inches in diameter, color rich crimson, spotted and edged with white, with a velvety appearance and very prolific flowers. Don't forget the name. We rather think you won't, when we tell you that it is Dianthus Hoddewigii.

☞ Denver City, in Kansas Territory, is a fast place.—About a year ago, it contained about a dozen log cabins and there were not over 20 men in the place; now there are over 6,000 people there, fine blocks of buildings are going up in all directions, and the sound of the hammer and saw is heard from dawn to sunset.

☞ The aggregate wealth of the United States amounts to twelve thousand million dollars, and the population is 24,000,000 souls. The wealth divided by the population gives to each person $500, young and old, and counting five persons to each family it would give the handsome little fortune of $2,500 to every family of the republic.

☞ It is asserted that the seventeen year locusts have lately stung fatally, several persons in Warren county, New Jersey, and Monroe county, Pa. In the latter county a little girl met her death in that manner, and a man who was stung is not expected to live. A number of hogs had also died after being stung.

☞ The Rev. Dr. Woods, of Andover, was once giving his class some good instructions about preaching, so as to obtain attention and gain applause. "Young gentlemen," said he, "it is all contained in a nut-shell; when you go to preach in the city put on your best coat, but when you go out into the country, take your best sermon."

☞ A colored man, named Carter, entered the office of Dr. Graham, at Perrysville, Juniata county, a short time since, to get morphine, which he was in the habit of using. The Dr. being out, he concluded to help himself, but instead of getting morphine he got strychnine, and one dose of it helped him into the next world pretty suddenly.

☞ On Wednesday of last week, two men, named Thos. Granger and Henry W. Hall, were fighting on the Hudson River Railroad track, near Peekskill, New York, and as the express train approached, another man named Geo. Rawcliffe, attempted to pull them off the track, but was held by one of them until the train approached, and all three were run over and killed.

☞ A New York paper states "on authority" that the whole expense of entertaining the Japanese in Philadelphia was only $8,000—but that in that city the expenses have already reached to $40,000. The bouquets used at the ball of Monday night cost over $1,100. The wine bill alone will not be less than $15,000! If New York gets off with $100,000 her tax-payers may congratulate themselves.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced nurse and female physician, has a soothing Syrup for children teething, which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by sotening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases. See advertisement in another column.

THE GREAT HOLLAND REMEDY

BŒRHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS.—Persons subject to nervous or sick headache, will find in Bœrhave's Holland Bitters a sure, safe and pleasant remedy. It soothes the throbbing head, corrects acidity of the stomach, assists digestion, and creates a healthy appetite. It is, without doubt, a most delightful preparation, and an effectual remedy. The fact that it is now a very popular medicine throughout all the Holland settlements in Wisconsin, New York, Michigan, Illinois and Indiana, speaks much in its favor. See advertisement in another column.

☞ COMMON SENSE rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing; let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas, from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

SAVE YOUR HORSES.

INPECTINE.
THE PERSIAN FEVER CHARM.

For the prevention and cure of Fever and Ague and Bilious Fevers. This wonderful remedy was brought to the knowledge of the present proprietors by a friend who has been a great traveller in Persia and the Holy Land.

While going down the river Euphrates, he experienced a severe attack of Fever and Ague. On discovering his condition, one of the Boatmen took from his person an Amulet, saying, "Wear this and no Fever will touch you." Although incredulous as to its virtues, he complied, and experienced immediate relief, and has since always found it an effectual protection from all malarious complaints.

On further investigation he found that the boatman attributed to it miraculous powers, and said that it could only be obtained from the Priests of the Sun. Sometime afterwards, the gentleman in conversing with a Priest obtained from him the secret of its preparation, and ascertained where the medicinal herbs were found, of which it was compounded. The wonderful virtues of this article have induced a full belief in the minds of the natives in the miraculous healing powers of their Priests.

Since his return to America, it has been tried with the happiest effect by several ladies and gentlemen of high character, who have given it the most unqualified praise.—This remedy having been a specific in Persia for hundreds of years, for the prevention and cure of Fever and Ague, and Bilious Fevers—is now offered to the American people.

It will be sent by mail, prepaid, with full directions for use, on receipt of one dollar.

BŒRHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR

DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND,
FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered

STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Bœrhave. Its reputation at home produced its introduction here, the demand commencing with those of the Fatherland scattered over the face of this mighty country, many of whom brought with them and handed down the tradition of its value. It is now offered to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

READ CAREFULLY!

The Genuine highly concentrated Bœrhave's Holland Bitters is put up in half-pint bottles only, and retailed at ONE DOLLAR per bottle, or six bottles for FIVE DOLLARS. The great demand for this truly celebrated Medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing.

☞ Beware of Imposition. See that our name is on the label of every bottle you buy.

Sold by Druggists generally. It can be forwarded by Express to most points.

LOCAL ITEMS.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.—Well, we had the Fourth of July up here in all its glory; fun, frolic, feasting, fuzzle-guzzling and a few free fights being the order of the day. From an early hour on the evening of the 3rd, until the descent of an unusually heavy shower of rain about 10 o'clock on the evening of the 4th, the adjacent mountains, hills and dales reverberated with the sound of air rushing rapidly into unoccupied space in the barrels of small cannons, muskets, shot guns, pistols, and everything which would make a noise. About five o'clock on the morning of the Fourth, the Logan Rifle Rangers and Altoona Guards, preceded by the Altoona Brass Band, marched to the top of the hill above West Altoona, to usher in the day and awaken the slumbering by firing several volleys of musketry. This duty performed, they marched down the hill again and dissmissed for breakfast. About seven o'clock the United States Protectors, under the command of their gallant Captain Pluck, made their debut. Here language fails us. To attempt to describe the company is like attempting almost an impossibility. The burlesques were the best we have ever seen attempted. The pioneer of the company was dressed one-half white and the other black and was intended for a burlesque on one of the present political parties. The band we can not speak of more than to say that it consisted of two performers on tin horns. Codfish aristocracy was represented by two of the company wearing tight bodied coats with dried cod-fish for coat tails. The hen-pecked husband was represented by an enormous shanghai rooster with a considerably ruffled coat of grey feathers, minus his tail, and beside him walked his better-half, dressed in the most gaudy style, in the very fullest breadth of the fashion, her hoops describing an upward curve of about two or three feet at every step. There were also a couple of Japanese and many other characters which we can not particularly note. Suffice it to say that those who saw the Protectors saw such a sight as they had never seen, and those who did not see them missed a sight such as they will not see until they again appear on dress parade, which may be ere long, as this, their first appearance, although their numbers were few, was a decided success.

At 10 o'clock the procession moved from the Catholic Church, preceded by the Altoona Brass Band. The number of children in the procession was very large. They proceeded to Beale's Woods to enjoy themselves as best suited their tastes. We visited the woods about noon, which proved to be a very interesting time, and found some half-a-dozen tables surrounded by men and women partaking of a repast that would have delighted the eyes of the most fastidious epicure. The supply of good things in the way of roast turkey, boiled ham, cakes, pies, ice cream, strawberries and cream, lemonade, &c., was sufficient to have supplied the whole town. A platform had been laid down on which the lads and lasses who delight in the sports of the dance had ample opportunity to enjoy themselves. It is estimated that there were over two thousand people on the ground during the afternoon. Everything passed off in the most harmonious manner, good order being maintained by those who had charge of the ground.

The Young Men's Pic Nic, held in a grove on Hagerty's farm, below town, was a recherche affair, although the number was small. They obtained the barn floor for a ball room, and put in a happy time on the "fantastic toe," partaking of super-excellent eatables and drinkables, (that word ain't in Webster) and pleasant tete-a-tetes with kindred spirits in the recesses of the grove. Through a misunderstanding we were prevented from paying our respects to the party, agreeably to their invitation, for which we are sorry. They have our thanks for the handsome manner in which they remembered us with a share of the good things provided for the occasion, in the shape of an excellent cake and several varieties of southern fruit.

A number of our citizens held a pic nic in the grove adjoining West Altoona, and from the manner in which they were enjoying themselves when we were on the ground, we presume they had a merry time of it. A Harrisburg band furnished the music for dancing, and the platform was well occupied.

Altogether, the day was creditably spent by the citizens of Altoona. There were a few intoxicated persons to be seen about the streets in the evening, but so far as we observed, none of them were residents of this place.

☞ Of all the degraded, low, mean and loathsome specimens of humanity which we may be called to look upon, preserve us from the sight of a woman reeling along the street from the effects of intoxicating liquor. We witnessed a few such cases on the Fourth, and they will satisfy us for an indefinite length of time to come.

☞ The Good Will boys had their "mercheen" out on Saturday evening last, giving the citizens of East Altoona a specimen of their working powers, and testing the capacity of the fire plugs in that district to supply water, in case of fire. What conclusion they arrived at we have not learned.

Proceedings of the Town Council.

ALTOONA, July 2nd, 1860.

Council met. Present, A. A. Smyth, R. Greenwood, D. F. Laughman, J. A. McDowel, D. R. Miller, and Wm. C. McCormick, Chief Burgess.

John McClelland, Secretary being necessarily absent on account of sickness in his family,—On motion, Wm. C. McCormick appointed Sec'y pro tem.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

The Chief Burgess presented a certified transcript of the action and decision of the Court at their last session, in relation to the assessment of damages, and advantages on certain lot owners in the locality of Catharine Street, which was read.

On motion, Resolved, That the Chief Burgess be requested to notify each individual of the amount of assessment, and urge immediate payment, and as soon as the money can be collected, that the said street be opened and extended.

A Bill was presented and read, from Mr. C. B. Sink, for Nails, Spikes and Plank, contracted for by the late Council, amounting to $7.78.

Whereupon it was, on motion, Resolved, That hereafter no bills will be received or acted upon by council unless duly certified to as being correct by the person making the purchase or contract, and that the same has not been paid, and that Mr. Sink's bill be returned to him for the purpose of being properly authenticated.

On motion, Resolved, That the President of Council hereafter pay into the Borough Treasury, all monies received for permits, fines or otherwise, from time to time, for the use of the Borough.

Whereupon the President of Council paid over the sum of $1.25 which he had received for Permits.

On motion, Resolved, That the Chief Burgess be requested to notify all persons who are owners of, or agents for lots in the Borough, against whom Leins are held for making pavements, that payment is hereby required to be made on or before the next term of the Court in and for Blair County, after which time, in default of payment, suits will be commenced against all such without respect to persons.

On motion, Resolved, That a committee of two be appointed to issue proposals, and prepare plans and specifications for the construction and extension of the culvert from Branch to Harriet streets; and that the contract be allotted to the lowest and best bidder.

Whereupon Council appointed Messrs. Greenwood and Smyth said Committee.

In relation to the matter of the petition of H. Fettinger, Council decline making any exceptions, and direct the Supervisor to see that said awning and sign, and all others be immediately altered so as to conform to the requirements of the ordinances on the subject.

On motion, The Chief Burgess was requested to see the health committee appointed some time since, and ascertain from them their acceptance of the appointment, and endeavor to get them to discharge their duty in that respect, believing as they do, that the good order, comfort, and health of the citizens of the Borough depend in a great measure on their prompt and decided actions.

On motion, Resolved, That a committee be appointed to inquire into the propriety of procuring, and putting up weigh scales in the Borough for the purpose of weighing Hay, Coal, &c., and also as to the propriety of the appointment of an officer, whose duty it shall be to test and adjust all weights and measures within the Borough, and report to Council at their next meeting.

Whereupon, Council appointed Messrs. D. R. Miller, and D. F. Laughman said committee.

On motion, Council adjourned to meet again on Tuesday evening, July 14, 1860, at 7 o'clock, P. M.—Extract from the Minutes.

THANKS.—We have certainly reason to be thankful for the handsome manner in which we were remembered by the ladies on the 4th inst. First came two large cakes, one from the Misses Hickeys, of the Millinery store across the way, and the other from Miss Stark. The donors have our thanks, and the prayer of the printer that their larder may ever abound with good things, and that they may have plenty and to spare of all that will add to the comfort and good cheer of themselves and their friends. The cakes were composed of the richest ingredients, put up in good style, and finished to perfection.

Next, our friend Gust. McCoy, "came a tapping at our door," and on being received, placed upon our table a basket containing a fine cake, which he presented to us with the compliments of Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Feltz, Mrs. Kearney and Mrs.————. The ladies will please accept our thanks for this their kind remembrance of the printer while plenty ruled their board, and may each live to enjoy the return of many more glorious Fourths, and always be able to "do likewise" to their friends and the printer.

Miss Ella will please accept the thanks of the Junior for the handsome boquet handed him a few evenings since. May her pathway through life ever be strewn with flowers as bright and sweet as those which composed the boquet. We speak metaphorically.

Another friend, incognito, sent us a boquet of fragrant flowers to cheer us on our weary way. They came opportunely, our previous invoices, from generous friends, having withered and died. We imagine we know the donor. May the flowers of her household ever remain as fair and pure.

ACCIDENT AT THE FOUNDRY.—On Wednesday last a laborer at the Hollidaysburg Foundry, named James Cully, whilst assisting in pouring metal from a large ladle, was very severely burned by the accidental oversetting of the ladle. The principal injury was to his right leg and foot, the metal getting into his boot and embedding itself in the flesh. His right arm was also considerably burned. We are pleased to add, however, that he is doing well, and is not likely to be permanently crippled. He expects to be about in the course of four or five weeks.—Register, 4th inst.

MILL BURNT.—The fine stone grist mill of Mr. Samuel Isett, at Etna Iron Works, in this county, we regret to say, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday last, together with all its contents. Loss estimated at from $10,000 to $15,000; and no insurance. He had about 1,000 bushels of wheat in the garners at the time, besides a quantity in the mill belonging to customers. A large corncrib attached to the mill, containing some 2,500 bushels of corn was also destroyed. The fire is supposed to have been communicated by a half-witted fellow residing about the Works.—Register.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION.—The scholars connected with the public schools in this place, gave a public exhibition at the East Ward school rooms, on Thursday and Friday evenings, June 29th and 30th. We cannot, and presume, are not, expected to say much in reference thereto, as we were only present for about 10 minutes on the first evening. One thing we think, was fully demonstrated, and that is, that to keep perfect order among over three hundred children, crowded into two rooms barely large enough to contain them, is next to impossible. While we were present the noise made by the children inside of the house prevented us from hearing what was said by those upon the stage. The performances on the stage are said by those who were close enough to hear to have been very creditable. We learn that on the second evening much more quiet was secured and the performances passed off to the satisfaction of the large audience collected to witness them. Could the exhibition have been given by each school separately, on different evenings, the result would have been quite different and much more to the advantage of both teachers and scholars.

WOODCOCK SHOOTING.—Some persons are under the impression that the Legislature passed a law prohibiting the shooting of woodcock previous to the 1st of September. We learn from one of our Harrisburg cotemporaries that such a law was reported in the Senate, but was never called up for action, and the time to commence shooting them legally is on the 4th of July, as heretofore. As there are now quite a number of game laws, persons who do not observe them carefully are likely to get them confused, and we therefore deem this information due to the public, because many might be misled, while those who know that there was no law of the kind passed would reap the advantage of their knowledge by thinning out the birds before the ignorant would get wind of it. Our charge for the above information is the same as that of our cotemporary down the road, viz:—half-dozen woodcock.

DOUGLAS MEETING.—Pursuant to a call issued by the Chairman of the Democratic Club, in this place, the club convened in Shultz's Hall, on the evening of the 28th ult. On motion it was adjourned to the front of the Altoona House, where addresses were delivered by S. T. Murray, Esq., of Hollidaysburg; R. S. Johnston, Esq., of Ebensburg, and Wm. A. Stewart, formerly of New York. A series of resolutions were passed re-affirming the adhesion of those present to the Cincinnati platform,—cordially endorsing the nomination of Stephen A. Douglas by the Democratic National Convention—condemning the action of John C. Breckenridge in accepting the nomination of the seceders, and repudiating with "scorn and contempt the propositions being made by the political sorcerers and their stipendiaries at Washington City and elsewhere, to degrade and demoralize the democratic party by a fusion with the Seceders in the Empire and Keystone States."

ENCAMPMENT.—The much talked of encampment to come off at Huntingdon, commencing on the 24th and ending on the 29th of September, promises to be a grand affair. Of one thing we are sure, if we were in the military business yet, there is no place we would rather attend an Encampment at than Huntingdon, not because we were on one occasion escorted into quarters under a guard of five or six six-footers for staying away a little longer than Gen. Watson thought necessary to escort some ladies from the camp ground into town, but because the town contains more pretty girls, of a sociable disposition, than any town of its size in the country. We hope there may be a large turn out at the encampment and that we may be there to see.

DAMAGE TO GLASS.—During the firing of the small canon (manufactured for the occasion) at the crossing of Virginia and Annie streets, on the morning of the Fourth, six lights of glass in the bulk window of the Misses Hickey's Millinery store, on the corner, were broken.—The lights are very large, costing $1,25 each, but we are glad to note that the ladies referred to are not at the expense of replacing them, as those who were engaged in firing the cannon were gentlemen, and when they found out the damage they had done, immediately set about procuring glass to repair the window.

On the evening of the 20th ult., in Allegheny City, by Rev. Dr. Rodgers, Col. JAMES M. SWANK, junior editor of the Johnstown Tribune, to Miss LIZZIE, daughter of Mr. James Hamilton.

Well, Colonel, we thought it was about time for you to be attending to the commands of Holy writ. We welcome you most cordially to the number of happy benedicts; and hope that neither you nor your partner may ever regret the linking of your fates. By the way we would remind friend Mullen that it is time he was doing something for his country. Hurry up, Aleck; the best part of your life is running to waste.

☞ Our young friend, R. A. O. Kerr, requests attention to the fact that he has on hand a large stock of Berea grind-stones, said to be the best in the country. They will give an edge as keen as the tongue of a lawyer, and do it as quick as some politicians will turn their coats for the sake of office. Go and get one, if you need it, but if you don't you can find something else to buy, at Bob's store, which will be as easily carried around with you.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The following named persons have been elected officers of Altoona Division, No. 311, S. of T., for the ensuing quarter:—W. P., David Galbraith; W. A., A. D. Cherry; R. S., David Irons; A. R. S., J. G. Counsman; F. S., Theodore Peterson; T., B. F. Custer; C., John Boyles; A. C., D. P. Attick; I. S., A. Marshall; O. S., J. J. Smith; Chaplain, M. T. Dill.

"SNAIKS."—Judging from the number of snakes that have been killed lately by parties in search of berries, these reptiles must be numerous. A rattlesnake bearing fourteen rattles was killed by Peter Marks, and another bearing nine rattles was killed by Pink Clark, some days since. Rather ugly companions in a strawberry patch—their room is certainly preferable to their company.

TALL OATS.—We notice a number of our cotemporaries bragging about tall rye, timothy and oats stalks, which have been shown them, but we find none which will take down a bunch of oats stalks left with us a few days since, the tallest of which measured six feet two inches, and the remainder about six feet. It was from the farm of Mr. C. B. Sink, a short distance from town. The field from which it was taken is said to be of the "same sort" in height. Come on with your giraffs.

MESSRS. JENKINS & SMITH:—Gentlemen—Since graduating at the "Iron City," three years since, I have had no difficulty in obtaining constant employment as a Book-Keeper; and when asked for evidence of my ability, I have only to refer to my Diploma. No other testimonial is required here, as to one's ability as an accountant, than assurance of the fact, that he is a graduate of the Iron City College, Pittsburgh, Pa. Truly Yours, E. D. HARDISON.
Moscow, Polk Co. Texas, May 25, 1860.

NEW PAPER.—Some time since, Messrs. Martin & Ray issued a prospectus for a new paper, to be styled the Blair County American, to be published in this place. They have rented the room adjoining this office and are now engaged in getting up the first number of their paper, which, we presume, will be out in the course of a week or two. As its name indicates, it is to be American in politics.

☞ The Logan Rifle Rangers were out on Saturday last, in a new fatigue dress, consisting of light oil cloth caps instead of their heavy dress parade caps, and red shirts instead of their dress frock coats. Although their number was small, they made a fine appearance, the new dress being quite an improvement on the old one, to our eye, at least.

☞ Has the dog law been enforced yet?—One of two things is true—either there are more valuable dogs in this place, on which their owners pay the tax, or the Constable has not attended to the collection of the tax, and the decapitation of all canines for whom no one will "sock up."

A CHANCE.—Miss Jennie Scott informs us that she intends disposing of her stock of millinery goods and notions at auction, on Monday evening next, July 16th. Ladies in want of anything in the line of Bonnets, trimmings and notions should attend, as they will get bargains. Don't forget the time—Monday evening next.

LICENSE GRANTED.—At the Adjourned Court held in Hollidaysburg, some two weeks since, the following additional licenses were granted to tavern-keepers in this place, viz: John Devlin, John Stahl, Jacob Allman and John Nagle. J. Berkowitz was granted a wholesale license.

KEEP OUT OF HARM'S WAY.—This is good advice to all persons, at any time, but especially at a season of the year when coughs and colds harrass the system, and frequently lay the foundation of permanent disease of the lungs or some of the organs connected with respiration. To all afflicted in that way an early resort to the proper medicine will at once arrest the malady and hinder the development of an incurable disease. DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP, made by him at his medicine store, 140 Wood St., Pittsburgh, Pa., is such a medicine, and if it were resorted to at the commencement of a cough or influenza, there would be fewer deaths from pulmonary consumption. You can buy it at G. W. Kessler's.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—On Saturday last, a son of Col. A. DeArmit, about 12 years of age, while playing with some boys on the wall of the Gaysport viaduct, was precipitated into the river and would certainly have been drowned but for the timely assistance of Wm. Henry, Sr., and Hugh Curry, who rescued him just as he was sinking the fourth time under the water, which was some eight or ten feet deep.—Standard.

☞ The "model conductor" has again assumed his position on the Huntingdon Accommodation, and it now looks like the old institution. We are glad to note that Jim has almost, if not altogether recovered from his recent attack of rheumatism, and looks about as fat and saucy as ever.

MARTINSBURG, July 9th, 1860.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Thinking that an account of the manner in which the Fourth was commemorated in this place would prove of some interest to your readers, I have concluded to give a short sketch of it.

The day was ushered in at an early hour by the ringing of bells, the booming of cannon, and the soul-stirring music of fife and drum. Notwithstanding the heavy rain which fell in the morning, crowds of people flocked into town, from various directions. It is estimated that about three thousand persons were in our place.

At the hour appointed, a procession headed by the Washington Artillery and several Lodges of Odd Fellows were formed in the Diamond, which proceeded to a grove near the Franklin High School, where a stand had been erected for the speakers and seats for the accommodation of the spectators. After the assemblage were seated, the band played Hail Columbia, in an admirable manner. An appropriate prayer was then offered by Rev. Mr. Graham. Mr. Herbst was introduced and in a clear and firm voice, read the Declaration of independence. Addresses were then delivered by Rev. Buckley and Hassler, and Dr. Wintrode, of Huntingdon County. The latter gentleman's remarks, which were highly patriotic, were greeted with frequent bursts of applause by his hearers.

The audience then adjourned to the Franklin High School, in the spacious rooms of which large tables had been erected, and were loaded with the good things of this life, prepared by the hospitable citizens of Martinsburg. It is needless to attempt to give a description of what was on the tables; suffice it to say, that they were ladened with all the substantials and luxuries of this life, with which the rich country of the Cove abounds. The tables accommodated about three hundred persons, and were filled for the sixth time. It is estimated that nearly two thousand persons partook of the sumptuous repast, and yet there was an abundance left.

Towards evening the crowds began to disperse to their homes. Everything passed off pleasantly—no accident—no quarreling among this large and promiscuous assemblage, as frequently happens on such occasions.

In the evening a Grand vocal and Instrumental Concert was given by Prof. Eller and band, in the Town Hall. The room, which was large, was filled to its utmost capacity. The entertainment passed off in a delightful manner—all being pleased.

Thus passed off the most pleasant Fourth in Martinsburg. Every one seemed to enjoy it to their heart's content. May we as a people feel deeply thankful to an overruling Providence that we are in a land of Liberty and Independence, and hail with feelings of patriotism the return of the Fourth of July.

MARRIED.

CHILDREN TEETHING

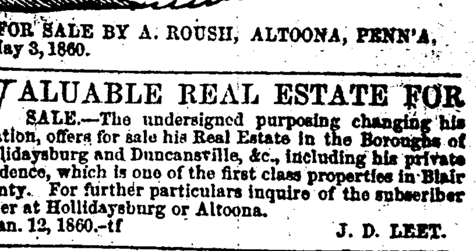

MRS. WINSLOW, AN EXPERIENCED NURSE AND FEMALE PHYSICIAN, presents to the attention of mothers her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.
which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums reducing all inflammation will allay pain and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the Bowels.
Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed, in a single instance, to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know," after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in thousands of cases.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause.—We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.
Sold by Druggists throughout the world, and by G. W. Kessler and A. Roush, druggists, Altoona. Price 25 cents per bottle.

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proofs so strong and direct as to
EXPEL THE DOUBTS
OF ALL.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore. Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C. June 24th, 1859.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: Dear Sir:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the road-side, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was finally destroyed over the entire surface of the head. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and, as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy Hair Restorative, which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my most sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully, M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Office of the Jeffersonian, Philippi, Va., Dec. 12th, 1858.
Dear sir.—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give it to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
DR. WOOD: Dear Sir: Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.
S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

MOTHERS

Thousands are daily speaking in the praise of DR. EATON'S

INFANTILE CORDIAL,

and why? because it never fails to afford instantaneous relief when given in time. It acts as if by magic, and one trial alone will convince you that what we say is true. It contains

NO PAREGORIC OR OPIATE

of any kind, and therefore relieves by removing the sufferings of your child, instead of by deadening its sensibilities. For this reason, it commends itself as the only reliable preparation now known for CHILDREN TEETHING, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, ACIDITY OF THE STOMACH, WIND, COLD IN THE HEAD, and CROUP, also, for softening the gums, reducing inflammation, regulating the Bowels, and relieving pain, it has no equal—being an anti-spasmodic it is used with unfailing success in all cases of CONVULSION OR OTHER FITS. As you value the life and health of your children, and wish to save them from those sad and blighting consequences which are certain to result from the use of narcotics of which all other remedies for Infantile Complaints are composed, take none but DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, this you can rely upon. It is perfectly harmless, and cannot injure the most delicate infant. Price, 25 cents. Full directions accompany each bottle. Prepared only by

BLOOD FOOD

Healthy human Blood upon being always presents us with the same essential elements, and gives of course the TRUE STANDARD. Analyze the Blood of a person suffering from Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Scrofula, &c., and we find in every instance certain deficiencies in the red globules of Blood. Supply these deficiencies, and you are made well. The BLOOD FOOD is is founded upon this Theory—hence its astonishing success. There are adapted to the deficiencies of the Blood in different diseases. For COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, or any affection whatever of the THROAT or LUNGS, inducing CONSUMPTION, use No. 1, which is also the No. for DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS, LOSS OF APPETITE, and for all CHRONIC COMPLAINTS, arising from OVER-USE, GENERAL DEBILITY, and NERVOUS PROSTRATION. No. 2, for LIVER COMPLAINTS, No. 3 for DYSPEPSIA.—Being already prepared for absorption it is TAKEN BY DROPS and carried immediately into the circulation, so that what you gain you retain. The No. 4 is for FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, HYSTERIA, WEAKNESSES, &c. See special directions for this. For SALT RHEUM, ERUPTIONS, SCROFULOUS, KIDNEY, and BLADDER COMPLAINTS, take No. 5. In all cases the directions must be strictly followed. The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

ANALYZED

FIVE PREPARATIONS

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor, as follows:

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it, and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the suds.

Worm Syrup.
TO THE PUBLIC.

AFTER A TRIAL of over TEN years in private practice, the subscriber is prepared to offer to the public a WORM SYRUP which has never failed to perform cures where others have been given in vain. It is beyond dispute the most pleasant and effectual preparation of the kind ever offered for sale.

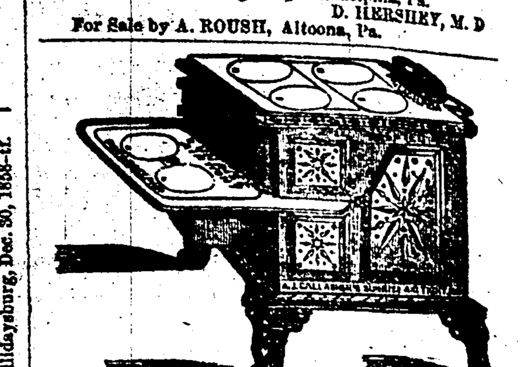

It performs its cures safely, speedily, and effectually; injuring the nervous system in no wise—unlike, in this respect, to the Pink Root and Turpentine preparations—nor does it contain mercury in any shape or form; but is a purely vegetable production, and so harmless in its action that the most delicate infant may take it.

It is one of the best and most gentle purgatives that can be administered to children, in case, even, where no Worms exist, and is all that may be required, in nine cases out of ten, to restore the deranged condition of the digestive organs, so frequently met during childhood; and save your children from severe spells of sickness, or convulsions.

Those Physicians who have used it are perfectly delighted with it, and use it in preference to any other preparation ever offered.

than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove Neither is there any danger of flues or chimneys becoming clogged with soot or the mortar loosened by the gas arising from coal fires.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

IT is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.
